

A Handbook of Alternative Monetary Economics

Edited by Philip Arestis and Malcolm Sawyer

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK and Northampton, Mass.

January 2007

Contents

	Title	Authors
1	Money: an alternative story	Éric Tymoigne and L. Randall Wray
2	Endogenous money: accommodationist	Marc Lavoie
3	Endogenous money: structuralist	Sheila Dow
4	Empirical work on endogenous money	Peter Howells
5	Chartalism and the tax-driven approach to money	Pavlina Tcherneva
6	French circuit theory	Claude Gnos
7	Italian circuitist approach	Riccardo Realfonzo
8	The theory of money emissions	Sergio Rossi
9	Keynes and money	Paul Davidson
10	Minsky and money	Elizabetta De Antonio
11	Kalecki and money	Malcolm Sawyer
12	Karl Marx's theory of money and credit	Suzanne de Brunhoff and Duncan Foley
13	The transmission mechanism of monetary policy: a critical re- view	Greg Hannsgen
14	Monetary policy	James Forder
15	Monetary policy in an endogenous money economy	Tom Palley
16	Central Bank and lender of last resort	Michael Knittel, Sybille Sobczak and Peter Spahn
17	The theory of interest rates	John Smithin
18	The role of banks in the context of economic development with reference to South Korea and India	Santonu Basu
19	Credit rationing	Roy Rotheim
20	Liquidity preference theory	Jörg Bibow
21	Financial liberalisation and the relationship between finance and growth	Philip Arestis
22	Deregulation	Doreen Isenberg
23	Banking and financial crises	Gary Dymski
24	A post-Keynesian examination of the structural roots and preven- tion of currency and financial crises in developing countries	Irene Gabel
25	Financial bubbles	Mark Hayes
26	Money and uncertainty	Giuseppe Fontana

27	Speculation, liquidity preference and monetary circulation	Korkut Erturk
28	Money and inflation	Mathias Vernengo
29	Interest and money: The property explanation	Gunnar Heinsohn and Otto Steiger